PRESIDENT TAFT SPEAKS

National Executive Happiest Among Thousands of Enthusiastic People

Crowning a day of important events which will go down in history as fitting demonstrations of the progress and development of the greatest industrial community of the world, the centennial of navigation was celebrated at Pittsburgh Tuesday. The President of the United States was an enthusiastic participant and witness, and the daughter of a former President and also grandniece of the intiator of the first boat on Western waters, christened the autotype of the old New Orleans. Various estimated here were from 90,000 to 100,000 people lining the river shore as Mrs. Longworth broke a bottle of champagne over the bow of the replica of the pioneer craft. Then the impressive river pageant began.

With the harbor lined with vessels of various descriptions the program previously arranged was carried out in detail. When President Taft stepped aboard the Virginia and then passed down a gang plank to the autotype of the New Orleans, there began a siren welcome from the steam whistles surrounding the flagship and the tiny steamer to be christened, receding the President on board the New Orleans had been Mrs. Longworth and her women's entourage, Governor Tener, Representative Burke, Dalzell, Barchfeld and Porter, Mayor Magee and Chairman Stevenson. The christening was a quick performance. Mrs. Longworth after a traditional manner broke the bottle of champagne over the vessel and the scramble began for pieces of the glass for relics.

President Taft and his party at once returned to the flagship Virginia. Pent-up enthusiasm found outlet in tumultuous cheers which resounded from shore to shore. The President made a short address when the parade began. Without ostentation except for the wildly manifested appreciation from onlookers the gaily festooned boats moved away from their moorings, first the New Orleans and Virginia and then other boats in order. President Taft was all smiles, the cynosure of all eyes. The boats weaved their way in perfect order to Brunot's Island. Turning at that point the review by the President began. It was an impressive sight.

The demonstration was one that no one who witnessed it will soon forget. Charleroi and North Charleroi occupied important places. The Slackter, the Swan and the T. P. Roberts all having headquarters at North Charleroi were in the parade. Probably one of the most advantageous views of all the proceedings was to be had from the deck and pilot house of the first-named vessel which was captained by Capt. James T. Nutt. This steamer was the Mail correspondent. On the Swan Col. T. P. Roberts, Major Newcomer and other dignitaries had places. This was in the forefront of the parade and other steamer on which were a

Caught Between Cars

Caught between two dilly cars in the Tremont mine of the River coal company at Fayette City this morning Andrew McLain of Fayette City, was so seriously hurt that for a time his life was despaired of. Doctors now have succeeded in getting him out of imminent danger. McLain is a well known young athlete and baseball player. His main injuries were about the head. It is stated that a companion worker was also injured at the time.

GOVERNOR RESPONDS TO TOAST

Speaks of "Our Commonwealth" At Pittsburg Banquet

PRaises THE PRESIDENT

"Our Commonwealth" was the toast responded to by Governor John K. Tener at the Chamber of Commerce at Pittsburgh Tuesday evening in honor of President Taft. He said:

"We are met tonight not only to commemorate an important historical event connected with the commercial and industrial development of this country, but to welcome as our guest the President of the United States. His presence at this time lends unusual interest to the occasion. He comes to us at the end of a journey on which he has looked into the faces of millions of American people, whose habitations are spread over a continent. It is perhaps not too much to say that no other President has undertaken such a Herculean task.

"It seems to us very proper that this pilgrimage carrying the gospel of sunshine and good cheer by a great ruler to his people should have its ending on Pennsylvania soil. During the course of the journey we sometimes read in the newspapers that the President was in the 'enemy's country,' but we desire to assure him tonight that he is in the home of his friends. Pennsylvania has always stood for safe and conservative rules of action in governmental and business affairs, and she stands upon this solid ground today. The storms of prejudice and passion and the subtle winds of new theories have never

FAYETTE CITY MAN KILLED BY TRAIN

Thomas W. Reed Caught Under Wheels of Passenger Coach and Head is Severed from Body at Belle Vernon

Falling beneath the wheels of the evening passenger train south bound, Thomas W. Reed, aged 47, had his head severed from his body Tuesday evening at Belle Vernon. He was thrown from the bottom step of one of the passenger coaches it is stated by the train starting. Mr. Reed was justice of the peace at Fayette City and a well known man of Fayette county.

Mr. Reed had been in Belle Vernon for a brief time Tuesday evening. While not yet 50 years old, he was somewhat infirm and used a cane in walking. Arriving a little late at the depot he started to board the train, just after the brakeman on one of the front coaches had ascended the steps to pull the signal rope to start. He was on the first step and at the first jurch of the train was whirled about and unable to catch the iron to hold himself in position he fell underneath the train. His head was severed from his body.

A widow, two daughters and one son survive. They are: Daisy, Edith and Thomas William. Mr. Reed was a former bookkeeper for the River coal company. The funeral will be held Friday.

DEMONSTRATION OF SAFEGUARDING MINES IS GIVEN

President Taft and Other National Officials Witness Big Event

HELD AT FORBES FIELD

Not the least interesting event in the celebration at Pittsburgh Tuesday was the mining tests for the conservation of life and limb that were held at Forbes Field in the morning and which were witnessed by both President Taft and Governor Tener. This was attended by mine operators, miners, engineers and representatives from mining sections all over the world.

By means of a steel gallery explosions were demonstrated. Forty teams of trained miners, clad in uniforms of khaki trousers with blue or white jumpers, representing 28 mining companies from all sections of the United States, gave life saving demonstrations and first aid to the injured. With oxygen helmets they entered the mine amid smoke and fumes and bore out the victims which they restored and to whom they gave first aid.

Governor Tener introduced the speakers—President Taft, Secretary of the Interior Fisher, and Miss Boardman, representing the Red Cross. Handsome souvenirs and medals were presented to the teams.

Washington county was represented by a first aid team from the Marianna mine of the Pittsburgh-Buffalo company. A special train was run from Marianna to Pittsburgh for the occasion, and the demonstration was widely attended by mine officials and miners from all points up and down the river.

Defeated Candidate for Commissioner Tells How He Spent Money

L. F. Hopkins of Centerville, defeated candidate for the nomination for register on the Republican ticket, filed his expense account Saturday. He spent $547.29. His total expense and other incidentals thereto amounted to $47.75. He spent $59 for stamps. These watchers were paid: John Lowers, Elco, $5; Max Avenir, West Pike Run township, $3; S. C. Hughes Twilight, $5; James Price, South Canonsburg, $5; D. Smith, Coal Centre, $3; Richard Simons, G. B. Nolan, Anthony Murphy, Frank Patterson and Daniel Fletcher, Charleroi, each $5 and five at Donora, at $3 each $15 these not being named. Car and railroad fare was expended to the amount of $21.13. To the Republican county committee he gave $10. Auto hire amounted to $12. The other expense included advertising, printing stenography, posting advertising notices, etc.

MASQUERADERS MAKE MERRY ON LOCAL STREETS

No Display of Objectionable Rowdysm to Spoil Joyful Occasion

LITTLE MISCHIEF DONE

Without the objectionable rowdysm and boisterousness so usually prevalent at a Halloween celebration Charleroi enjoyed itself Tuesday night. There was no organized celebration but maskers made merry in complete realization of their liberty under mask. There was no damage of consequence in the town, according to Chief of Police Albright, the only place where the exuberance of spirits was manifested to an unseemly degree being on Crest avenue, where a few boards of a sidewalk were torn up.

As early as 7 o'clock children and grown-ups attired in all manner of fantastic costumes appeared on the streets. Later the younger folks gave way to their older brothers who paraded the streets and by their picturesque appearance and queer behavior caused many a laugh. A number of masquerade parties was held and there were a couple of masquerade dances.

Monessen celebrated by a parade much after the same manner that Charleroi celebrated last year. But it was no better success, according to witnesses, than the usual political rally. Bands added to the jollity of the occasion however, and a parade was a feature. Several Charleroi people went over to assist in the proceedings.

ERIC GETS MIXED UP IN HIS HOUSE

Gets Right Street But Catches Wrong House as it Comes Around

Eric Mackei, by nationality a Finlander, by place of abode a Monessenite and by occupation a booze hoister, nearly sared a woman out of her wits at Monessen. Eric loaded up on bad booze and started for his home in Chestnut street. He aimed for Chestnut street and caught what he thought was his house as it came round. Opening the door he went in. It wasn't his house at all, but he didn't know it and apparently didn't care. The lady of the house aroused the neighborhood by a scream. Awakened by the noise the family dog made a spring at the intruder but seemingly he too was bothered by the motion of the house and caught the woman instead. Another scream sounded through the stillness of the night. Eric went to sleep. Finally he was brought to by the iron grasp of the law, per Patrolman John Wheatley. He was later fined $5 and costs. Dr. Day attended the woman and found that she had not been badly bitten.

He was seriously bruised about the shoulders and upper part of the body and had a narrow escape from death. For the first time since the accident he was able to leave his room Tuesday

CITIZEN DEFINES THE LAW

Tells How Trouble Was

Police Court

ORDINANCE IS QUOTED

To the Editor of the Charleroi Mail:

Sir:—Since some of the parties, and their sympathisers who were recently found guilty of disturbing the peace might have had several other charges preferred against them and if found guilty given a much saltier sentence than that imposed, it might be interesting to them and their sympathisers to read the law covering the disturbance in which they took part. Following are a few extracts from the Borough ordinances and from the criminal law of the State:

The Borough Ordinance provides that it shall be unlawful for a person to commit or perpetrate any indecent, immodest, lewd or filthy act by word or action in any street or other public place, to conduct himself in a manner annoying to persons passing by or to loaf or loiter on the streets or alleys or to obstruct the streets, sidewalks or alleys, under a penalty of not exceeding $10 for certain offences and a penalty of not exceeding $50 for others.

Section 4 of Ordinance 9 provides: "If any person shall in any manner interfere with or obstruct an officer or other person acting under authority of the Borough in the discharge of his duty, or shall resist the execution or enforcement of any ordinance of the borough, or resolution of Council, such person shall pay a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $100."

The State law provides that any person who shall wilfully make or cause to be made any loud, boisterous and unseemly noise or disturbance to the annoyance of the peace-

Will Hold Meeting at Up-River Town--Fusionists Getting Sails Trimmed

To meet the voters of the river section a number of candidates on the Republican county ticket are in Charleroi today, meeting with voters and attempting to fix things so that this section will loyally support the whole outfit. The candidates among whom are Richard G. Miller, the candidate for district attorney, R. G. Lutton, candidate for sheriff, Boyd C. Parshall candidate for register, and Dr. A. V. Lewis candidate for prothonotary are going to Roscoe tonight where they expect to hold a meeting. This Republican vanguard stopped at the Wilbur Hotel for dinner and had the pleasure of meeting the affable Joseph W. Martin from California who says he is going to make Dr. Lewis hustle for prothonotary.

The candidates here today do not include the total number of spellbinders. Coroner James T. Heffran, who has been out with the campaigning party for several days was here this morning. He says that the whole Republican ticket is going through.

There was not much doing in political circles Tuesday. The fusion spellbinders were scheduled to hold a ray at California but a Halloween celebration put a crimp in their sails and it wasn't a 'rousing' meeting. The fusionists are making arrangements to hold a meeting here on Saturday evening and are going to have Robert K. Aiken of New Castle do the chief oratory work.

ALL SAINTS DAY BEING CELEBRATED

Today is All Saints Day, which is a great festival of obligation in the Catholic church and is also observed by some of the Protestant churches. At St. Jerome's Catholic church special masses were given at 6 and 8 o'clock this morning, the former mass being especially for working people. Tomorrow is All Souls Day. This is followed by an eight day observance of the season known as the octave, eight days, from Thursday to Thursday. During this period masses will be held in St. Jerome's church at 7:30 and 8 o'clock each morning, the latter to be high mass.

A special service with a short address and communion was held at St. Mary's Episcopal church this morning at 10:30 in honor of All Saints Day.

MORE TRADE NEEDED.

Charleroi to maintain its prestige
and standing must have more outside trade. As conditions now are, there is not enough trade in the town proper
to maintain what business places are
now established, and if business does
not materially improve some of the stores will be obliged to seek locations elsewhere in a more profitable field. Local merchants complain that their business is decreasing, to
which many causes are attributed.
The most prominent of these is the
decrease of industrial operations in both the town and the near environments, and the deflection of trade to
other towns.

Both of these are natural conditions.
The working out of near-by coal mines and the shut down of manu-
factories in the town are conditions that cannot be helped. But the loss of trade to other towns is one that calls for more effort, energy and cooperation on the part of our business people. This is the spirit that formerly prevailed, but lately it seems to have been dissipated. Other and smaller near-by towns are showing a spirit
of energy and united effort that is drawing trade that formerly came to Charleroi. With the decrease of mining operations in the community,
which is but a natural condition there
is all the more reason why Charleroi should cater more than ever to the outside trade. Other towns are doing it and are profiting at Charleroi's expense.

THE VALUE OF CONTACT.

As a result of President Taft's visit to Pittsburgh this week it is announced that the canalizing of the Ohio river
a policy to which the Government is committed to carry out within the next twelve years will be materially hastened. After taking part in the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the inauguration of the steam navigation of the Ohio river at Pittsburg this week, President Taft is impressed with the importance of
the inland waterways of the great Ohio and Mississippi valleys, the source of a part of which is in Western Pennsylvania.

After coming in personal contact
with actual conditions, the President has expressed himself in favor of Congressional appropriations which will make the Ohio river navigable all the year around in a much shorter time than was at first allotted. By using the amount of money necessary for the completion of a single first-class battle ship each year the project could be completed in six years instead of twelve years. This is entirely within the lines of a constructive national policy which will benefit the people directly instead of preserving old imperial traditions, and with the President's approval and influence the
work should be materially hastened.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Every man has good intentions
when he borrows an umbrella.

The limit has been reached when children start to robbing homes.

Often times it's just as well to say nothing whether you saw anything
or not.

Fond dreams will become scary
nightmares to some candidates next Tuesday night.

If a man can get elected to Congress he can usually get a job with
a lecture bureau.

Many fellows who can't play the piano get rid of their feeling by playing a typewriter.

About the only chance some fellows ever get to do any talking is before election day at the big rallies.

When a nation starts playing baseball, it's a sure indication of progressiveness. And China has started playing baseball.

The Washington county man who
got arrested just as he got a job will learn hereafter to beware of anything that means work.

Naturally enough those people down at Pittsburgh couldn't get along without help from Charleroi folks in entertaining their guests.

There wouldn't be much show by
a fleet of the renowned Spanish Armada today even among such a navy as Italy and Turkey have.

England has one hen to the acre
of territory. America has an uncounted number of hens per acre,
most of which at present are in the meat shops.

President Taft has not forgotten
in the stress of his many official,
political and lecturing duties to make
the Thanksgiving proclamation and once again the country has been saved.

Cows, horses and human beings
had better take to their storm cellars in the wild and woolly east to escape the straying bullets of city sportsmen. Reason: The hunting season begins today.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Among the Hallowe'en maskers on
the streets last evening was a young lady attired in a fairy costume which displayed a trim waist as well as a hair of equally trim angles. Her flaxen wig and highly powdered complexion, the delicate features of the masker attracted marked attention
among the girls. When the fun was the fastest and most furious the
"fairy" approached a group of girls
on one of the street corners, who were not masked.

"Oh, you sweet thing," said one of the girls. "I'd like to kiss you."

For answer the masked young lady threw her arms around the girl and
gave her a rousing smack.

"Won't that color come off your lips?" asked the girl, blushing prettily.

"No," answered the "fairy" in a deep bass voice. "It's guaranteed to be fast."

There were sundry shrieks and exclamations, as the bunch of girls fled
from the spot.

As a warning against investment
in get-rich-quick concerns to which women are supposed to be particularly susceptible, a financial authority,
writing especially to women investors, lays down 10 rules in the Woman's Home Companion for the guidance of women. This warning could also be profitably followed by
the male sex.

1. Six per cent is a liberal return for the use of money.
2. The higher the interest return,
the less safe the investment.
3. Before buying a security find out what you could sell it for if you owned it.
4. Stock extravagantly advertised should never be bought.
5. The personal magnetism of a stock salesman does not add one cent
to the value of the stock.
6. Investment, like medicine, is a science practiced by experts.
7. Get expert advice concerning investment. You can afford to pay for it, if necessary.
8. The successful banker is the best adviser—when he will advise.
9. Get information about securities from as many sources as possible before buying.
10. Don't invest hurriedly.

Electric Bells Protect Orchards.
So familiar have electric bells become to most of us that even their sound at unexpected times or in unusual places rarely startles us. Not so with birds, to which the sudden ringing of a bell on a tree or a post means something far more uncanny
than any scarecrow flapping in the wind. Knowing this, the head master of an Austrian school has patented an electric scarecrow system in which a clock makes the connections at irregular intervals to electric bells scattered over the orchard.

What He Might Expect.
"Trimmins has a first-rate voice,"
said the critic at the concert; "but he always comes in behind time." "Yes," replied the man who lends money. "I guess it's force of habit. Trimmins' notes are always overdue."—Stray Stories.

Noiseless Furniture.
Irritating noises can be avoided by taking some old felt hats, cutting out
from these disks about the size of a quarter and securely fastening them
to the bottoms of the legs of all chairs, tables and other movable articles not provided with casters. This also prevents the scratching of polished floors.

Municipal Reform in Georgia.
For several years there has been a
law forbidding the running of bulls loose on the streets. This law has not been enforced for several years,
but it does seem that it should now be enforced, as there are several such animals now at large.—Blackshear Times.

Doing Away With Knot Holes.
To save the loss of box lumber because of knot holes a man in California has invented a machine to saw the holes out to a uniform size and cut plugs to be fitted into the holes.

Queer Face Facts.
"Why do you photographers always photograph the left side of the face
by preference?"

"Because it's the best looking," was
the prompt reply. "The left side of
the face is always the more regular,
and it always shows least the marks
of time."

"But," he continued, "if you want to bring out the real character of a face photograph the right side. There nature sets her print. There the lines are bold and unmistakable. There every defect, no less than every excellence, is stamped deep."

"The left side, where everything is softened down, for beauty. The right side, where everything is well rubbed
in, for character. Those are the portrait artist's two chief rules."

Historic Retributions.

Haman devised a gallows 50 cubits
high for Mordecai in the days of King Ahasuerus. But on this towering gibbet Haman himself was hanged. The bishop of Verdun contrived an iron cage, too small to allow a person confined within it either to stand upright
or to lie at full length, for the torture
of heretics. The bishop of Verdun himself was the first victim to suffer such a cage.

Jealousy.

"So you disapprove of the modern drama?" "Yes," said the constable. "I can't help thinking there's something wrong with these plays we've been getting. The public mind is liable to get confused. I never yet saw a play that made a policeman appear as affable or smart or heroic as a burglar
or a confidence man."

Middle Course Difficult.

See the good nowhere—that is an aim, and this is easy. To see it good everywhere—that is optimism, and this is not difficult. But to find the good somewhere—that is sober, and this is in no wise easy.

Pots and Kettles.

I saw a friend impatiently cleaning
a bean pot. I said to her: "Fill that
with cold water; put in a teaspoonful
of baking soda; cover and set in the oven. When it has boiled half an hour
it will be as easy to wash as a coffee cup." Clean fish and meat roasting pans in the same way.—Good Housekeeping.

WAR DECLARED

Catarrh Germs Must Be Conquered or Health Will Be Destroyed.

If you have catarrh you must vanquish an army of persistent destructive microbes before you can get rid
of it.

You might as well choose your weapons, declare war and annihilate
this army of catarrh germs right now.
Stomach dosing won't kill them;
neither will sprays or douches.

Hyomei, a pleasant, antiseptic,
germ destroying air breathed over the entire membrane will put catarrh
germs out of business in short order.

Hyomei (pronounce it High-o-me)
is guaranteed by Piper Bros to end
catarrh, asthma, bronchitis, coughs, colds and croup or money back. If you own a little Hyomei hard rubber pocket inhaler you can get a separate bottle of Hyomei for only 50 cents.
If you haven't an inhaler buy a complete outfit that only costs $1.00.

Japanese Fruit Trees.

Among the many ways of their own
that the Japanese have for doing is the system of pruning and training fruit trees. The system is called
"tana," and consists in training the
branches overhead on trellis work
made of bamboo or wire supported on wooden posts about five and a half feet high.

This offers advantages in gathering
the fruit, and not only serves to protect the trees against wind and storms, but is said to increase production. Only very light pruning is done, and that usually in the winter-
time. This system is generally adopted for pears and vines, less often for apples and plums.—Youth's Companion.

Irreverent Youth.

On a recent publication day of a newspaper printed out west, a boy,
some ten or twelve years of age, came into the office, and, with a peculiar
grin on his face, inquired, "if that paper," pointing to the copy, "has an account of the man that has been murdered in Delavan?" He was answered in the affirmative, when depositing five cents upon the table, he remarked, with an air of self-importtance, "Well—that's my dad, and I want to read about him."—Boston Herald.

Cheap Mode of Living

With no rent to pay, no street car fares or other of the usual unavoidable city expenses to meet, the barge
and canal boat men of the Netherlands live possibly the most frugal lives of any of the urban working lasses in Europe. They, with their families, exist in the hulls of their raft. The rooms are small, with little ventilation, and necessarily low to enable the boats to pass under the ridges. The decks form the children's playground. Chickens are sometimes kept on the boat and consume the garbage.

Didn't Concern Him.

John Wesley had a reputation for cheerfulness. In his journal he writes:
"I preached in Halifax to a civil, sensible congregation. Three or four gentlemen put me in mind of the honest man at London who was so gay and unconcerned while Doctor Sherlock was preaching concerning the Day of Judgment. One asked, 'Do you not hear what the doctor says?' He answered, 'Yes, but I am not of his parish!'"

Digestive Properties of Eggs.

The latest news of how eggs go in the stomach is. Two freshest soft boiled, one and three-quarters hours;
two raws, two and one-quarter hours;
hard boiled, three hours; omelette,
three hours. The figures speak for themselves, but do not tell the whole truth, for it looks as if soft boiled are more easily digested than raws,
whereas, raws are so bland and gentle as not to excite the flow of the gastric juices—not a single squirm of the stomach.—New York Press.

Men's Inhumanity to Man.

Some men, when they are arrested
on a serious charge, are sent to jail.
Others, like one in New York, fare much worse. The magistrate told his wife to take him home and tell him
what she thought of him.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

A Queer Customer.

"Mandy," said the village tailor to his wife, "I'm going to give Sam Billings a suit of clothes for a pig." "My goodness, papa!" exclaimed his little daughter. "what does a pig want
with a suit of clothes?"

CHRISTEN NEW ORLEANS WITH FINE CEREMONIES

Mrs. Longworth Breaks Bottle of Champagne Over Boat

National Executive Happiest Among Thousands of Enthusiastic People

Crowning a day of important events which will go down in history as fitting demonstrations of the progress and development of the greatest industrial community of the world, the centennial of navigation was celebrated at Pittsburgh Tuesday. The President of the United States was an enthusiastic participant and witness, and the daughter of a former President and also grandniece of the instigator of the first boat on Western waters, christened the autotype of the old New Orleans. Various estimated there were from 90,000 to 100,000 people lining the river shore as Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth broke a bottle of champagne over the bow of the replica of the pioneer craft. Then the impressive river pageant began.

With the harbor lined with vessels of various descriptions the program as previously arranged was carried out in detail. When President Taft stepped aboard the Virginia and then passed down a gang plank to the autotype of the New Orleans, there began a stately welcome from the steam vessels surrounding the flagship and the tiny steamer to be christened. Preceding the President on board the New Orleans had been Mrs. Longworth and her women's entourage, Governor Tener, Representative Burke, Dalzell, Barchfield and Porter, Mayor Magee and Chairman Stevenson. The christening was a quick performance. Mrs. Longworth after the traditional manner broke the bottle of champagne over the vessel and laughed as the scramble began for pieces of the glass for relics.

President Taft and his party at once returned to the flagship Virginia. Pent-up enthusiasm found outlet in tumultuous cheers which resounded from shore to shore. The President made a short address. When the parade began. Without ostentation except for the wildly manifested appreciation from onlookers the gaily festooned boats moved away from their moorings, first the New Orleans and Virginia and then other boats in order. President Taft was all smiles, the cynosure of all eyes. The boats weaved their way in perfect order to Brunot's Island. Turning at that point the review by the President began. It was an impressive sight.

The demonstration was one that no one who witnessed it will soon forget. Charleroi and North Charleroi occupied important places. The Slackwater, the Swan and the T. P. Roberts all having headquarters at North Charleroi were in the parade. Probably one of the most advantageous views of all the proceedings was to be had from the deck and pilot house of the first-named vessel which was captained by Capt. James T. Nutt.

In this steamer was the Mail correspondent. On the Swan Col. T. P. Roberts, Major Newcomer and other navigation officials had places. This was at the forefront of the parade. Another steamer on which were a

Speaks of "Our Commonwealth" At Pittsburgh Banquet

PRAISES THE PRESIDENT

"Our Commonwealth" was the toast responded to by Governor John K. Tener at the Chamber of Commerce at Pittsburgh Tuesday evening in honor of President Taft. He said:

"We are met tonight not only to commemorate an important historical event connected with the commercial and industrial development of this country, but to welcome as our guest the President of the United States. His presence at this time lends unusual interest to the occasion. He comes to us at the end of a journey on which he has looked into the faces of millions of American people, whose habitations are spread over a continent. It is perhaps not too much to say that no other President has undertaken such a Herculean task.

"It seems to us very proper that this pilgrimage carrying the gospel of sunshine and good cheer by a great ruler to his people should have its ending on Pennsylvania soil. During the course of the journey we sometimes read in the newspapers that the President was in the 'enemy's country,' but we desire to assure him tonight that he is in the home of his friends. Pennsylvania has always stood for safe and conservative rules of action in governmental and business affairs, and she stands upon this solid ground today. The storms of prejudice and passion and the subtle winds of new theories have never

Thomas W. Reed Caught Under Wheels of Passenger Coach and Head is Severed from Body at Belle Vernon

Falling beneath the wheels of the evening passenger train south bound, Thomas W. Reed, aged 47, had his head severed from his body Tuesday evening at Belle Vernon. He was thrown from the bottom step of one of the passenger coaches it is stated by the train starting. Mr. Reed was a justice of the peace at Fayette City and a well known man of Fayette county.

Mr. Reed had been in Belle Vernon for a brief time Tuesday evening. While not yet 50 years old, he was somewhat infirm and used a cane in walking. Arriving a little late at the

DEMONSTRATION OF SAFEGUARDING MINES IS GIVEN

President Taft and Other National Officials Witness Big Event

HELD AT FORBES FIELD

Not the least interesting event in the celebration at Pittsburgh Tuesday was the mining tests for the conservation of life and limb that were held at Forbes Field in the morning and which were witnessed by both President Taft and Governor Tener. This was attended by mine operators, miners, engineers and representatives from mining sections all over the world.

By means of a steel gallery explosions were demonstrated. Forty teams of trained miners, clad in uniforms of khaki trousers with blue or white jumpers, representing 28 mining companies from all sections of the United States, gave life saving demonstrations and first aid to the injured. With oxygen helmets they entered the mine amid smoke and fumes and bore out the victims which they restored and to whom they gave first aid.

Governor Tener introduced the speakers—President Taft, Secretary of the Interior Fisher, and Miss Boardman, representing the Red Cross. Handsome souvenirs and medals were presented to the teams.

Washington county was represented by a first aid team from the Marianna mine of the Pittsburgh-Buffalo company. A special train was run from Marianna to Pittsburgh for the occasion, and the demonstration was widely attended by mine officials and miners from all points up and down the river.

Tells How Trouble Was Brought to Head in Police Court

To the Editor of the Charleroi Mail: Sir:—Since some of the parties, and their sympathisers who were recently found guilty of disturbing the peace might have had several other charges preferred against them and if found guilty given a much saltier sentence than that imposed, it might be interesting to them and their sympathisers to read the law covering the disturbance in which they took part. Following are a few extracts from the Borough ordinances and from the criminal law of the State:

The Borough Ordinance provides that it shall be unlawful for a person to commit or perpetrate any indecent, immodest, lewd or filthy act by word or action in any street or other public place, to conduct himself in a manner annoying to persons passing by or to loaf or loiter on the streets or alleys or to obstruct the streets, sidewalks or alleys, under a penalty of not exceeding $10 for certain offences and a penalty of not exceeding $50 for others.

Section 4 of Ordinance 9 provides: "If any person shall in any manner interfere with or obstruct an officer or other person acting under authority of the Borough in the discharge of his duty, or shall resist the execution or enforcement of any ordinance of the borough, or resolution of Council, such person shall pay a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $100."

The State law provides that any person who shall wilfully make or cause to be made any loud, boisterous and unseemly noise or disturbance to the annoyance of the peace—

Heads of County Ticket Meet Voters in Charleroi

GO TO ROSCOE TONIGHT

Will Hold Meeting at Up River Town—Fusionists Getting Sails Trimmed

To meet the voters of the river section a number of candidates on the Republican county ticket are in Charleroi today, meeting with voters and attempting to fix things so that this section will loyally support the whole outfit. The candidates among whom are Richard G. Miller, the candidate for district attorney, R. G. Lutton, candidate for sheriff, Boyd C. Parshall candidate for register, and Dr. A. V. Lewis candidate for prothonotary are going to Roscoe tonight where they expect to hold a meeting. This Republican vanguard stopped at the Wilbur Hotel for dinner and had the pleasure of meeting the affable Joseph W. Martin from California who says he is going to make Dr. Lewis hustle for prothonotary.

The candidates here today do not include the total number of spellbinders. Coroner James T. Heffran, who has been out with the campaigning party for several days was here this morning. He says that the whole Republican ticket is going through.

There was not much doing in political circles Tuesday. The fusion spellbinders were scheduled to hold a ray at California but a Halloween celebration put a crimp in their sails and it wasn't a "rousing" meeting. The fusionists are making arrangements to hold a meeting here on Saturday evening and are going to have Robert K. Aiken of New Castle to do the chief oratory work.

Today is All Saints Day, which is a great festival of obligation in the Catholic church and is also observed by some of the Protestant churches. At St. Jerome's Catholic church special masses were given at 6 and 8 o'clock this morning, the former mass being especially for working people. Tomorrow is All Souls Day. This is followed by an eight day observance of the season known as the octave, eight days, from Tuesday to Thursday. During this period masses will be held in St. Jerome's church at 7:30 and 8 o'clock each morning, the latter to be high mass.

A special service with a short address and communion was held at St. Mary's Episcopal church this morning at 10:30 in honor of All Saints Day.

MORE TRADE NEEDED.

Charleroi to maintain its prestige
and standing must have more outside
trade. As conditions now are, there is not enough trade in the town proper
to maintain what business places are
now established, and if business does
not materially improve some of the
stores will be obliged to seek locations elsewhere in a more profitable
field. Local merchants complain that
their business is decreasing, to
which many causes are attributed.
The most prominent of these is the
decrease of industrial operations in
both the town and the near environments, and the deflection of trade to
other towns.

Both of these are natural conditions.
The working out of near-by coal
mines and the shut down of manu-
factories in the town are conditions
that cannot be helped. But the loss
of trade to other towns is one that
calls for more effort, energy and cooperation on the part of our business
people. This is the spirit that formerly prevailed, but lately it seems to
have been dissipated. Other and smaller near-by towns are showing a spirit
of energy and united effort that is drawing trade that formerly came to Charleroi. With the decrease of mining operations in the community,
which is but a natural condition, there
is all the more reason why Charleroi
should cater more than ever to the outside trade. Other towns are doing it and are profiting at Charleroi's expense.

THE VALUE OF CONTACT.

As a result of President Taft's visit to Pittsburg this week it is announced that the canalizing of the Ohio river
a policy to which the Government is committed to carry out within the
next twelve years will be materially
hastened. After taking part in the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the inauguration of steam navigation of the Ohio river at Pittsburg this week, President Taft
is impressed with the importance of
the inland waterways of the great Ohio and Mississippi valleys, the source of a part of which is in Western Pennsylvania.

After coming in personal contact
with actual conditions, the President
has expressed himself in favor of Congressional appropriations which will
make the Ohio river navigable all the
year around in a much shorter time
than was at first allotted. By using
the amount of money necessary for
the completion of a single first-class
battle ship each year the project
could be completed in six years instead of twelve years. This is entirely within the lines of a constructive
national policy which will benefit the
people directly instead of preserving
old imperial traditions, and with the President's approval and influence the
work should be materially hastened.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Every man has good intentions
when he borrows an umbrella.

The limit has been reached when
children start to robbing homes.

Offentimes it's just as well to say nothing whether you saw anything
or not.

Fond dreams will become scary
nightmares to some candidates next Tuesday night.

If a man can get elected to Con-
a lecture bureau.

Many fellows who can't play the
piano get rid of their feeling by
playing a typewriter.

About the only chance some fellows
ever get to do any talking is before
election day at the big rallies.

When a nation starts playing
baseball, it's a sure indication of pro-
gressiveness. And China has started playing baseball.

The Washington county man who
got arrested just as he got a job
will learn hereafter to beware of
anything that means work.

Naturally enough those people down at Pittsburg couldn't get along without help from Charleroi folks in entertaining their guests.

There wouldn't be much show by
a fleet of the renowned Spanish Armanda today even among such a navy as Italy and Turkey have.

England has one hen to the acre
of territory. America has an un-
counted number of hens per acre,
most of which at present are in the
meat shops.

President Taft has not forgotten
in the stress of his many official,
political and lecturing duties to make
the Thanksgiving proclamation and
once again the country has been
saved.

Cows, horses and human beings
had better take to their storm cel-
lars in the wild and woolly east to escape the straying bullets of city
sportsmen. Reason: The hunting season begins today.

Among the Hallowe'en maskers on
the streets last evening was a young lady attired in a fairy costume which
displayed a trim waist as well as a pair of equally trim ankles. With a flaxen wig and highly powdered complexion, the delicate features of the
masker attracted marked attention
among the girls. When the fun was
the fastest and most furious the
"fairy" approached a group of girls
on one of the street corners, who were
not masked.

"Oh, you sweet thing," said one of the girls. "I'd like to kiss you."
For answer the masked young lady
threw her arms around the girl and
gave her a rousing smack.

"Won't that color come off your
lips?" asked the girl, blushing
prettily.

"No," answered the "fairy" in a
be fast."

There were sundry shrieks and ex-
clamations, as the bunch of girls fled
from the spot.

As a warning against investment
in get-rich-quick concerns to which
women are supposed to be particularly susceptible, a financial authority,
writing especially to women investors, lays down 10 rules in the Woman's Home Companion for the guidance of women. This warning
could also be profitably followed by
the male sex.

1. Six per cent is a liberal return
for the use of money.
2. The higher the interest return,
the less safe the investment.
3. Before buying a security find out what you could sell it for if you
owned it.
4. Stock extravagantly advertised
should never be bought.
5. The personal magnetism of a stock salesman does not add one cent
to the value of the stock.
6. Investment, like medicine, is a science practiced by experts.
7. Get expert advice concerning investment. You can afford to pay for
it, if necessary.
8. The successful banker is the best adviser—when he will advise.
9. Get information about securities
from as many sources as possible before buying.
10. Don't invest hurriedly.

Electric Bells Protect Orchards.

So familiar have electric bells become to most of us that even their
sound at unexpected times or in unusual places rarely startles us. Not
so with birds, to which the sudden
ringing of a bell on a tree or a post
means something far more uncanny
than any scarecrow flapping in the wind. Knowing this, the head master of an Austrian school has patented an electric scarecrow system in which a clock makes the connections at irregular intervals to electric bells scattered over the orchard.

What He Might Expect.
"Trimmins has a first-rate voice,"
said the critic at the concert; "but he
always comes in behind time." "Yes,"
replied the man who lends money. "I guess it's force of habit. Trimmins' notes are always overdue."—Stray Stories.

Noiseless Furniture.
Irritating noises can be avoided by
taking some old felt hats, cutting out
from these disks about the size of a quarter and securely fastening them
to the bottoms of the legs of all chairs,
tables and other movable articles not
provided with casters. This also prevents the scratching of polished floors.

Municipal Reform in Georgia.
For several years there has been a
law forbidding the running of bulls
loose on the streets. This law has
not been enforced for several years,

be enforced, as there are several such
animals now at large.—Blackshear

Doing Away With Knot Holes.

able residents near by, or near any public highway, road, street, lane, alley, park, square or common within this Commonwealth, whereby the public peace is broken or disturbed or the traveling public annoyed shall be guilty of the offence of disorderly conduct, and shall be fined not exceeding $10 and costs in default of which the offender may be committed to the county jail for a term not ex-

The State law relative to rioting provides that the active participation, by three or more persons, in doing, countenancing or supporting an unlawful act against the public peace, makes the participants guilty of rioting, and imposes a penalty with fines not to exceed $500, imprisonment not to exceed two years, either or both may be imposed at the discretion of the court.

The State law relative to assault and battery provides that an intentional attempt by force to do an injury to the person of another is an assault and imposes a penalty by fine not to exceed $1,000, by imprisonment not to exceed one year, either or both may be imposed by the court.

In conclusion I desire to ask how much sympathy would have been given the police had they been beaten up by a mob while doing their sworn duty to the public?

Queer Face Facts.

photograph the left side of the face
by preference?"
"Because it's the best looking," was
the prompt reply. "The left side of
the face is always the more regular,
and it always shows least the marks
of time."

"But," he continued, "if you want
to bring out the real character of a face photograph the right side. There nature sets her print. There the lines
are bold and unmistakable. There every defect, no less than every excellence, is stamped deep."
The left side, where everything is softened down, for beauty. The right side, where everything is well rubbed
in, for character. Those are the portrait artist's two chief rules."

Historic Retributions.

Haman devised a gallows 50 cubits
high for Mordecai in the days of King Ahasuerus. But on this towering gibbet Haman himself was hanged. The bishop of Verdun contrived an iron
cage, too small to allow a person confined within it either to stand upright
or to lie at full length, for the torture
of heretics. The bishop of Verdun himself was the first victim to suffer such
a cage.

Jealousy.

"So you disapprove of the modern
can't help thinking there's something
wrong with these plays we've been getting. The public mind is liable to get confused. I never yet saw a play
that made a policeman appear as af-
fable or smart or heroic as a burglar
or a confidence man."

Middle Course Difficult.

See the good nowhere—that is moral, and this is easy. To see the good everywhere—that is optimism, and this is not difficult. But to see the good somewhere—that is realism, and this is in no wise easy.

Pots and Kettles.

I saw a friend impatiently cleaning
a bean pot. I said to her: "Fill that
with cold water; put in a teaspoonful
of baking soda; cover and set in the
oven. When it has boiled half an hour
it will be as easy to wash as a coffee
cup." Clean fish and meat, roasting pans in the same way.—Good Housekeeping.

WAR DECLARED

Catarrh Germs Must Be Conquered or Health Will Be Destroyed.

If you have catarrh you must van-
quish an army of persistent, destructive microbes before you can get rid
of it.

You might as well choose your
weapons, declare war and annihilate
this army of catarrh germs right now.
Stomach dosing won't kill them;
neither will sprays or douches.

Hyomei, a pleasant, antiseptic,
germ destroying air breathed over the
entire membrane will put catarrh
germs out of business in short order.
Hyomei (pronounce it High-o-me)
is guaranteed by Piper Bros to end
catarrh, asthma, bronchitis, coughs,
colds and croup or money back. If you own a little Hyomei hard rubber
pocket inhaler you can get a separate
bottle of Hyomei for only 50 cents.
If you haven't an inhaler buy a complete outfit that only costs $1.00.

Japanese Fruit Trees.

Among the many ways of their own
that the Japanese have for doing is their system of pruning and training
fruit trees. The system is called
"tana," and consists in training the
branches overhead on trellis work
made of bamboo or wire supported on wooden posts about five and a half
feet high.

This offers advantages in gathering
the fruit, and not only serves to protect the trees against wind and
storms, but is said to increase production. Only very light pruning is done, and that usually in the winter-
time. This system is generally adopted
for pears and vines, less often for apples and plums.—Youth's Companion.

Irreverent Youth.

On a recent publication day of a newspaper printed out west, a boy,
some ten or twelve years of age, came
into the office, and, with a peculiar
grin on his face, inquired, "If that paper," pointing to the copy, "has an account of the man that has been murdered in Delevan?" He was answered in the affirmative, when depositing five cents upon the table, he
remarked, with an air of self-importance, "Well—that's my dad, and I want to read about him."—Boston Herald.

Cheap Mode of Living.

With no rent to pay, no street car
fares or other of the usual unavoid-
able city expenses to meet, the barge
and canal boat men of the Netherlands live possibly the most frugal
lives of any of the urban working classes in Europe. They, with their families, exist in the hulls of their
raft. The rooms are small, with little ventilation, and necessarily low to
enable the boats to pass under the
ridges. The decks form the children's playground. Chickens are sometimes kept on the boat and consume the garbage.

Didn't Concern Him.

John Wesley had a reputation for
cheerfulness. In his journal he writes:
"I preached in Halifax to a civil, senseless congregation. Three or four gentlemen put me in mind of the honest
man at London who was so gay and unconcerned while Doctor Sherlock
was preaching concerning the Day of Judgment. One asked: 'Do you not hear what the doctor says?' He answered, 'Yes, but I am not of his
parish!'"

Digestive Properties of Eggs.

The latest news of how eggs go in
the stomach is: Two freshest soft bolls, one and three-quarters hours;
two raws, two and one-quarter hours;
hard bolls, three hours; omelette,
three hours. The figures speak for themselves, but do not tell the whole truth, for it looks as if soft bolls are
more easily digested than raws,
whereas, raws are so bland and gentle as not to excite the flow of the gastric juices—not a single squirm of the
stomach.—New York Press.

Men's Inhumanity to Man.

Some men, when they are arrested
on a serious charge, are sent to jail.
Others, like one in New York, fare
much worse. The magistrate told his wife to take him home and tell him
what she thought of him.—Rochester
Democrat and Chronicle.

A Queer Customer.

"Mandy," said the village tailor to
his wife, "I'm going to give Sam Bil-
lings a suit of clothes for a pig." "My
goodness, papa!" exclaimed his little daughter. "What does a pig want
with a suit of clothes?"

TWIN ILLS

Stomach Troubles and Bad Health, How to Treat Them

Stomach trouble and rundown system go together, usually. If you can get the system built up, the stomach symptoms disappear.

W. H. McAnis, Birmingham, Ala., says: "I had suffered from stomach trouble for years but found nothing that would give more than temporary relief. My druggist said Vinol was the best thing for me to use. It gave me immediate relief, improved my appetite and digestion and now I feel that I am all through with my stomach trouble."

We firmly believe that all forms of stomach trouble due to impaired general health can be permanently cured by the use of Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil. Its remarkable tonic and strengthening effects are exactly what the weakened stomach needs. We guarantee that Vinol will do all that we claim for it and give back your money if it doesn't. TAME GULLS OF SHETLAND

Each Family in Lerwick Has Its Own Flock Which the Children Feed.

There are many small villages in the world that have only one street; but Lerwick, in Shetland, besides having only a single street possesses only one tree, and it is not a very tall one either. There are no land birds there, not even a sparrow; but the sea gulls are plentiful.

The inhabitants of Shetland are very proud of their tree and very kind to the gulls, of whom the children make pets. Children who are brought for the first time to see the wonders of one-streeted Lerwick are always shown, as a great curiosity, "the only tree in Shetland."

The sea gulls are the sparrows of Lerwick; and as such they have a greater share in the town's life than the sparrows of London. In the morning you will note that a sea gull sits on every chimney pot. Sea gulls swoop and hover over every roof in town. The air is full of their strange, high, plaintive, haunting cries.

Every house has its own familiar sea gulls and every street its own band of them. But, according to the Fruit Magazine, they never mix. The children in each house have a pet name for their own particular sea gulls; and, having called them by those names, they feed them every day.

Each sea gull knows what is meant for him. No bird attached to one house ever seeks to eat the food scattered from the house next door. He does not dare to do so. So all day long the sea gulls hover and call over the roofs of Lerwick.

The people of the town if they come across a little pile of rice laid upon the roadway step over it with care. They know that it has been placed there for some sea gull. And at night the sea gulls leave their appointed chimney-pots and fly gracefully away to their resting places on the rocks of the Isle of Noss.

OLD FASHIONED FAMILY PEW

In That Rested the Strength of the Church, and It Should Be Restored.

One sometimes hears a deal of nonsense about the danger of creating a prejudice against religion in the mind of a child by making him attend church once a week. The danger would seem to be about one-tenth as great as that of arousing a prejudice against education by sending him to school twice a day. In both cases the remedy lies in the good sense of the parents and their estimate of the value of religion and education carefully instilled into the child's mind.

The strength of the church has been in the old-fashioned pew, with father at one end and mother at the other, and a stairway of more or less restless children. From that pew have gone out the upright, devout, consecrated men and women who have loved the church and maintained her worship and done her work in their several generations. For the sake of the church, and especially for the sake of the children, let it be restored.

If it be impossible for the children to attend both Sunday school and the church service, this writer would by all means teach them the catechism at home and bring them to church that they may learn to worship God in the congregation of his people.—Southern Churchman.

Algerian Bargaining.

Americans who travel in eastern lands are amused as well as aggravated by the business methods which prevail there. A recent traveler in Algiers concluded to buy a mule, and finally found one for sale.

He went to the owner, with an interpreter, and a dialogue then ensued, as follows:

The interpreter, with a yell: "I will give you ten dollars for that mule."

The Arab: "Ten dollars! Murder! Thief! Briga di!"

The interpreter: "I will make it eleven dollars. Do you hear, you scoundrel? I offer you eleven dollars for your mule which will die in about a week. You are a robber and a thief to take that much; but I am a generous man, and I serve a great man, so I offer you even twelve dollars, you scoundrel!"

Then they both yelled and shook their fists at each other, and to the American it looked as if they were going for each other, hammer and tongs.

The row they made was terrible, but no one seemed to notice it.

Finally a bargain was struck, and then they fell upon each other's necks and embraced.

And the American got his mule for eleven dollars.

Goat's Milk Highly Valued.

There are scores of foreign writers and medical experts who advocate the use of goat's milk for infants and invalids. In fact there are sanitariums in France and Switzerland that give goat's milk a prominent place in their systems of care. The milk is especially recommended for infants because of its similarity in composition to mother's milk.

Heard in Sunday School.

"What should a man do in case his right hand offends him?" "Become left-handed."

NO CAUSE TO DOUBT

A Statement of Facts Backed by a Strong Guarantee

We guarantee immediate and positive relief to all sufferers from constipation. In every case where our remedy fails to do this we will return the money paid us for it. That's a frank statement of facts and we want you to substantiate them at our risk.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten just like candy, are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night; do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness, or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Rexall Orderlies are unsurpassable and ideal for the use of children, old folks and delicate persons. We cannot too highly recommend them to all sufferers from any form of constipation and its attendant evils. That's why we back our faith if they do not give entire satisfaction. Three sizes: 12 tablets 10 cents, 36 tablets 25 cents and 80 tablets 50 cents. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Rochester only at our store—The Rexall Store. Carroll's Drug Store, 623 Fallowfield Avenue, Charleroi.

Always a Fly in the Ointment.

The two old cronies happened to be taking an automobile ride through the fruit belt.

"Rammage," observed the man with the cropped mustache, "this is a land of plenty. I could be perfectly happy here."

"You wouldn't though, Ruggles," returned the man with the Auburn beard. "I'll bet you a dollar that the first man you congratulate on his prosperity will put up a howl about his hard luck."

"You're on."

Ten minutes later they stopped at a farmhouse, ostensibly to get a drink of water.

"You've got the finest yield of grapes in that vineyard," casually remarked Ruggles, "I ever saw in my life."

"Yes," gloomed the fruit raiser; "I've got too gash-blamed many grapes this year. I can't git half enough baskets to ship 'em in."

"Rammage, you win," said Ruggles. And they rode on.

New Heat Unit.

The use of gas for heating as well as lighting has made obsolete the old unit the candle power, owing to the fact that this unit rates merely the brightness of the flame, not the heating power.

Deville and more recent experimenters discovered a remarkable proportion between the light and heat of a mantle, and using this, makers are rating burners according to the units of heat given to them per unit of time in standard calories. Gas of 5,200 calories efficiency a cubic meter has been recommended as the standard.

The latest designs of burners for heat and lighting require that the gas have a fairly constant consumption, since the maximum efficiency of the burner is attained only when the relative quantities of air and gas are closely regulated. Water gas may be added to prevent excessive variation in calorific value.—America.

Ready With Suggestion.

A superintendent of a city Sunday school endeavored to give the summer meetings added attractiveness. Upon a certain warm Sunday lemonade was served. At the close of the service the superintendent announced that slips of paper would be passed round and the pupils allowed to make suggestions as to methods of making the meetings still more attractive. One youngster wrote: "Put more sugar in the lemonade."

Same Old Human Nature.

From the fresco paintings of women in Cretan palaces of the period about 2000 B. C. it is learned that the women of that time pinched in their waists, had flounced or accordion-plaited skirts, wore an elaborate coiffure on their heads, shoes with high heels and hats which might have come from a Parisian hat shop, while one woman might be described as wearing a jupe culotte.

No Vipers in New World.

Africa is the home of the typical vipers. No species of the true viper inhabits the new world, though several kinds of snakes are commonly so called. The viperine snakes of this hemisphere belong to a sub-family of the vipers, known technically as the Crotalinae. Under this head come the rattlesnake, copperhead, water moccasin, bushmaster and the fer-de-lance.

Land of Thunderstorms.

Gibraltar is said to be the region of the globe where it thunders ofttest, having thunderstorms on 97 days of the year.

The Daily Newspaper

All experienced advertisers acknowledge that familiarity by the public with the name and nature of their wares is one of the first essentials of success. To attain this familiarity the eye must be appealed to, and appealed to repeatedly. Sporadic appeals are as useless as a bucket of water thrown on an arid plain. What the eye sees the mind holds, but they must see it daily—and the daily newspaper offers the only stable opportunity for the direct aim at the vision. The story told in the daily newspaper, day after day, is impressed on the mind. This impression is a valuable factor.

The Charleroi Mail reaches practically every English reading household in Charleroi, besides circulating up and down the river. At no time in the history of Charleroi has any Charleroi newspaper been so widely or eagerly read than is the Mail at the present time.

Over 7,000 persons read the Charleroi Mail every day

Can an advertiser by any other means reach the eyes and ears of so many people in a single day by any other source?

What would the bill distributor charge you for distributing 8,000 bill a day? Compare the cost of the bills and the distribution with the cost of an advertisement in the Mail.

DOING THEIR DUTY

Scores of Charleroi Readers Are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys.

To filter the blood is the kidneys' duty.

When they fail to do this the kidneys are sick.

Backache and many kidney ills follow.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure them all. Charleroi people endorse our claim. Mrs. William McBride, 508 Lincoln avenue, Charleroi says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in our family for several years. Our first experience with them took place while we were living in Beaver Falls. A member of our family was at that time suffering from dull pains in the small of the back and other symptoms of kidney trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills proved of great benefit and there was no return of the trouble for some time. About a month ago Doan's Kidney Pills were procured at Piper Bros. and they proved as beneficial as before. In view of our experience with Doan's Kidney Pills I do not hesitate to recommend them."

MARRIED EARLY THIS MORNING

Miss Ethel Wagner Becomes the Bride of Raymond Emrick

With only the members of the immediate families present Miss Ethel Susan Wagner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wagner, of McKean avenue, and Raymond Albert Emrick son of Mrs. Allie Emrick of Fallowfield avenue, were married in the parlors of the bride's home this morning. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. T. Hackett, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at 7 o'clock. The happy couple left on the 7:06 train for a two week's wedding tour, during which they will visit Cleveland, Urbana, and other cities in Ohio. On their return they will take up housekeeping at 413 McKean avenue, where they will be at home to their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Emrick are popular among the young set of Charleroi. The bride belongs to one of the best known pioneer families of Charleroi. She is a beautiful and accomplished young woman, and like her husband a favorite among her many friends. The groom has been employed for about five years at Wagner's Ice Cream and Confectionary parlors and is highly esteemed.

"In the strength of tried experience we have stood four square against every new breeze that threatened to sweep the country from old moorings. We stand today as we always have stood, with the banners of our faith flying from the outer walls of our Commonwealth, and when our flag goes down it will be when there is nothing more worth fighting for in representative government. This is the sentiment of our people, and at this time that sentiment finds its best expression in President Taft, your guest this evening. Mr. President, let me assure you our people are enlisted in the cause and are willing to follow your leadership in a great contest soon to be waged for true and lasting representative government for our people. We say to you, Welcome, thrice welcome to our State."

When Governor Tener was introduced at the banquet pandemonium broke loose. It was the greatest demonstration of the night, with the exception of that accorded President Taft. Handclapping and cheers resounded through the room and napkins waved high over all as the chief executive of Pennsylvania rose to respond to the toast.

Gov Tener aroused considerable enthusiasm when, near the conclusion of his address, he said that President Taft had prophesied a nine-foot stage in the Ohio river from Pittsburgh to Cairo, Ill., within five years.

New Heat Unit.

The use of gas for heating as well as lighting has made obsolete the old unit the candle power, owing to the fact that this unit rates merely the brightness of the flame, not the heating power.

Deville and more recent experimenters discovered a remarkable proportion between the light and heat of a mantle, and using this, makers are rating burners according to the units of heat given to them per unit of time in standard calories. Gas of 5,200 calories efficiency a cubic meter has been recommended as the standard.

The latest designs of burners for heat and lighting require that the gas have a fairly constant consumption, since the maximum efficiency of the burner is attained only when the relative quantities of air and gas are closely regulated. Water gas may be added to prevent excessive variation in calorific value.—America.

Tragic Wedding Party.

An appalling happening occurred in Turkey a few days ago, at a wedding celebration, the bride, bridegroom and twenty-eight of the guests being blown to pieces. A powder merchant named Yahia was celebrating his wedding in the village of Sinan, in the Yemen, when a terrific explosion occurred in one of the rooms where powder was stored. The bride and bridegroom and guests all perished, some of them being terribly mutilated.

WILL REPRODUCE WORLD'S SERIES

Manager R. L. Barnhart has secured the films of the world's series of baseball games between the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Athletics for tomorrow night, which will be an attraction of first magnitude. Intense interest centered in this series of games by Charleroi fans, some of whom journeyed east to witness the games in person. Tomorrow every one in Charleroi can have an opportunity to see at least some of the thrilling plays, and to see face to face the players even better than they could be viewed from the grand stand or the bleachers on the grounds. To accommodate all, the first show Thursday evening will start promptly at 6 o'clock. The Pathe Weekly Bulletin is shown at the Palace tonight.

DODGE THE POSTAGE STAMP

Foreign Countries Devising Schemes for Benefit of Large Users of the Mails.

Any man who can devise a practical substitute for the postage stamp will deserve the gratitude of every large business house in the world, and may earn a large fortune. For the labor of affixing stamps to their enormous mail necessitates in some firms the employment of a special clerical staff.

In the postoffices of some countries steps in this direction have already been taken. Here, for instance, newspapers and magazines are mailed by their publishers in bulk without stamps, and the postage is paid in a lump sum of one cent a pound. Then, again, some firms that send out large quantities of circulars register themselves under a certain number at the postoffice, their envelopes are printed with this number and the circulars so mailed are paid for in bulk. In Bavaria large consignments of letters may merely be postmarked by machinery and sent without stamps, the postage fee being paid in a lump sum at the time of mailing. It is said that since February 1, 1910, this system has saved the Bavarian postoffice the expense for paper and the printing cost for 10,000,000 stamps.

A writer in the Umschau, a German publication, suggests a further development of this system along the lines of a meter, like those used for water, gas and electricity, in which the letters would be placed and automatically stamped with a postmark, the machine recording each letter so mailed. These machines would be inspected periodically and the bills collected, just as are those of the consumer of gas or water.

Authors Not Posted.

Wills have often proved a stumbling block to the novelist. One flagrant case may be mentioned. A popular writer causes an old aristocrat to have his "last will and testament" witnessed by his butler and his housekeeper, yet he makes them both benefit under it. By so doing he rendered the will invalid. But the author did not know it.

The Junior class of High School and three members of the faculty were entertained Tuesday evening at a masquerade party by Miss Helen McLain, a member of the class, at her home in Vesta. Dressed in all kinds of fantastic costumes the members of the class left in a body in the 7:18 car. The hostess received them royally. A merry time was enjoyed. Queer Physical Facts.

Matters in geography and physics appear to get a little mixed at times. The mouth of the Mississippi is several miles farther from the center of the earth than its source, so that it actually runs uphill. Also the eastern end of the Panama canal is further west than the western end. It sounds like a "bull," to be sure, but for all that it is a fact.

MORE TRADE NEEDED.

Charleroi to maintain its prestige and standing must have more outside trade. As conditions now are, there is not enough trade in the town proper to maintain what business places are now established, and if business does not materially improve some of the stores will be obliged to seek locations elsewhere in a more profitable field. Local merchants complain that their business is decreasing, to which many causes are attributed. The most prominent of these is the decrease of industrial operations in both the town and the near environments, and the deflection of trade to other towns.

Both of these are natural conditions. The working out of near-by coal mines and the shut down of manufacturing in the town are conditions that cannot be helped. But the loss of trade to other towns is one that calls for more effort, energy and co-operation on the part of our business people. This is the spirit that formerly prevailed, but lately it seems to have been dissipated. Other and smaller near-by towns are showing a spirit of energy and united effort that is drawing trade that formerly came to Charleroi. With the decrease of mining operations in the community, which is but a natural condition, there is all the more reason why Charleroi should cater more than ever to the outside trade. Other towns are doing it and are profiting at Charleroi's expense.

THE VALUE OF CONTACT.

As a result of President Taft's visit to Pittsburgh this week it is announced that the canalizing of the Ohio river a policy to which the Government is committed to carry out within the next twelve years will be materially hastened. After taking part in the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the inauguration of the steam navigation of the Ohio river at Pittsburgh this week, President Taft is impressed with the importance of the inland waterways of the great Ohio and Mississippi valleys, the source of a part of which is in Western Pennsylvania.

After coming in personal contact with actual conditions, the President has expressed himself in favor of Congressional appropriations which will make the Ohio river navigable all the year around in a much shorter time than was at first allotted. By using the amount of money necessary for the completion of a single first-class battle ship each year the project could be completed in six years instead of twelve years. This is entirely within the lines of a constructive national policy which will benefit the people directly instead of preserving old imperial traditions, and with the President's approval and influence the work should be materially hastened.

Cows, horses and human beings had better take to their storm cellars in the wild and woolly east to escape the straying bullets of city sportsmen. Reason: The hunting season begins today.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Among the Hallowe'en maskers on the streets last evening was a young lady attired in a fairy costume which displayed a trim waist as well as a pair of equally trim ankles. Her eleven wig and highly powdered complexion, the delicate features of the masker attracted marked attention among the girls. When the fun was the fastest and most furious the "fairy" approached a group of girls on one of the street corners, who were not masked.

"Oh, you sweet thing," said one of the girls. "I'd like to kiss you."

For answer the masked young lady threw her arms around the girl and gave her a rousing smack.

"Won't that color come off your lips?" asked the girl, blushing prettily.

"No," answered the "fairy" in a deep bass voice. "It's guaranteed to be fast."

There were sundry shrieks and exclamations, as the bunch of girls fled from the spot.

As a warning against investment in get-rich-quick concerns to which women are supposed to be particularly susceptible, a financial authority, writing especially to women investors, lays down 10 rules in the Woman's Home Companion for the guidance of women. This warning could also be profitably followed by the male sex.

1. Six per cent is a liberal return for the use of money.
2. The higher the interest return, the less safe the investment.
3. Before buying a security find out what you could sell it for if you owned it.
4. Stock extravagantly advertised should never be bought.
5. The personal magnetism of a stock salesman does not add one cent to the value of the stock.
6. Investment, like medicine, is a science practiced by experts.
7. Get expert advice concerning investment. You can afford to pay for it, if necessary.
8. The successful banker is the best adviser—when he will advise.
9. Get information about securities from as many sources as possible before buying.
10. Don't invest hurriedly.

Electric Bells Protect Orchards.
So familiar have electric bells become to most of us that even their sound at unexpected times or in unusual places rarely startles us. Not so with birds, to which the sudden ringing of a bell on a tree or a post means something far more uncanny than any scarecrow flapping in the wind. Knowing this, the head master of an Austrian school has patented an electric scarecrow system in which a clock makes the connections at irregular intervals to electric bells scattered over the orchard.

able residents near by or near any public highway, road, street, lane, alley, park, square or common within this Commonwealth, whereby the public peace is broken or disturbed or the traveling public annoyed shall be guilty of the offence of disorderly conduct, and shall be fined not exceeding $10 and costs in default of which the offender may be committed to the county jail for a term not exceeding thirty days.

The State law relative to rioting provides that the active participation, by three or more persons, in doing, countenancing or supporting an unlawful act against the public peace, makes the participants guilty of rioting, and imposes a penalty with fines not to exceed $500, imprisonment not to exceed two years, either or both may be imposed at the discretion of the court.

The State law relative to assault and battery provides that an intentional attempt by force to do an injury to the person of another is an assault and imposes a penalty by fine not to exceed $1,000, by imprisonment not to exceed one year, either or both may be imposed by the court.

In conclusion I desire to ask how much sympathy would have been given the police had they been beaten up by a mob while doing their sworn duty to the public?

Respectfully Citizen.

Queer Face Facts.
"Why do you photographers always photograph the left side of the face by preference?"

"Because it's the best looking," was the prompt reply. "The left side of the face is always the more regular, and it always shows least the marks of time."

"But," he continued, "if you want to bring out the real character of a face photograph the right side. There nature sets her print. There the lines are bold and unmistakable. There every defect, no less than every excellence, is stamped deep."

"The left side, where everything is softened down, for beauty. The right side, where everything is well rubbed in, for character. Those are the portrait artist's two chief rules."

Historic Retributions.
Haman devised a gallows 50 cubits high for Mordecai in the days of King Ahasuerus. But on this towering gibbet Haman himself was hanged. The bishop of Verdun contrived an iron cage, too small to allow a person confined within it either to stand upright or to lie at full length, for the torture of heretics. The bishop of Verdun himself was the first victim to suffer such a cage.

Jealousy.
"So you disapprove of the modern drama?" "Yes," said the constable. "I can't help thinking there's something wrong with these plays we've been getting. The public mind is liable to get confused. I never yet saw a play that made a policeman appear as affable or smart or heroic as a burglar or a confidence man."

Middle Course Difficult.
See the good nowhere—that is an aim, and this is easy. To see it good everywhere—that is optimism, and this is not difficult. But to find the good somewhere—that is so far as this is in no wise easy.

Pots and Kettles.
I saw a friend impatiently cleaning a bean pot. I said to her: "Fill that with cold water; put in a teaspoonful of baking soda; cover and set in the oven. When it has boiled half an hour it will be as easy to wash as a coffee cup." Clean fish and meat roasting pans in the same way.—Good House-keeping.

WAR DECLARED

Catarrh Germs Must Be Conquered or Health Will Be Destroyed.

If you have catarrh you must vanquish an army of persistent destructive microbes before you can get rid of it.

You might as well choose your weapons, declare war and annihilate this army of catarrh germs right now. Stomach dosing won't kill them; neither will sprays or douches.

Hyomei, a pleasant, antiseptic, germ destroying air breathed over the entire membrane will put catarrh germs out of business in short order.

Hyomei (pronounce it High-o-me) is guaranteed by Piper Bros to end catarrh, asthma, bronchitis, coughs, colds and croup or money back. If you own a little Hyomei hard rubber pocket inhaler you can get a separate bottle of Hyomei for only 50 cents. If you haven't an inhaler buy a complete outfit that only costs $1.00.

Japanese Fruit Trees.

Among the many ways of their own that the Japanese have for doing is their system of pruning and training fruit trees. The system is called "tana," and consists in training the branches overhead on trellis work made of bamboo or wire supported on wooden posts about five and a half feet high.

This offers advantages in gathering the fruit, and not only serves to protect the trees against wind and storms, but is said to increase production. Only very light pruning is done, and that usually in the winter-time. This system is generally adopted for pears and vines, less often for apples and plums.—Youth's Companion.

Irreverent Youth.

On a recent publication day of a newspaper printed out west, a boy, some ten or twelve years of age, came into the office, and, with a peculiar grin on his face, inquired, "if that paper," pointing to the copy, "has an account of the man that has been murdered in Delavan?" He was answered in the affirmative, when depositing five cents upon the table, he remarked, with an air of self-importance, "Well—that's my dad, and I want to read about him."—Boston Herald.

Cheap Mode of Living

With no rent to pay, no street car fares or other of the usual unavoidable city expenses to meet, the barge and canal boat men of the Netherlands live possibly the most frugal lives of any of the urban working classes in Europe. They, with their families, exist in the hulls of their craft. The rooms are small, with little ventilation, and necessarily low to enable the boats to pass under the bridges. The decks form the children's playground. Chickens are sometimes kept on the boat and consume the garbage.

Didn't Concern Him.

John Wesley had a reputation for cheerfulness. In his journal he writes: "I preached in Halifax to a civil, senseless congregation. Three or four gentlemen put me in mind of the honest man at London who was so gay and unconcerned while Doctor Sherlock was preaching concerning the Day of Judgment. One asked, 'Do you not hear what the doctor says?' He answered, 'Yes, but I am not of his parish!'"

Digestive Properties of Eggs.
The latest news of how eggs go in the stomach is. Two freshest soft boiled, one and three-quarters hours; two raws, two and one-quarter hours; hard boiled, three hours; omelette, three hours. The figures speak for themselves, but do not tell the whole truth, for it looks as if soft boiled are more easily digested than raws, whereas, raws are so bland and gentle as not to excite the flow of the gastric juices—not a single squirm of the stomach.—New York Press.

Men's Inhumanity to Man.
Some men, when they are arrested on a serious charge, are sent to jail. Others, like one in New York, fare much worse. The magistrate told his wife to take him home and tell him what she thought of him.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

A Queer Customer.

"Mandy," said the village tailor to his wife, "I'm going to give Sam Billings a suit of clothes for a pig." "My goodness, papa!" exclaimed his little daughter. "what does a pig want with a suit of clothes?"

Miss Ethel Wagner Becomes the Bride of Raymond Emrick

With only the members of the immediate families present Miss Ethel Susan Wagner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wagner, of McKean avenue, and Raymond Albert Emrick son of Mrs. Allie Emrick of Fallowfield avenue, were married in the parlors of the bride's home this morning. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. T. Hackett, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at 7 o'clock. The happy couple left on the 7:06 train for a two week's wedding tour, during which they will visit Cleveland, Urbana, and other cities in Ohio. On their return they will take up housekeeping at 413 McKean avenue, where they will be at home to their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Emrick are popular among the young set of Charleroi. The bride belongs to one of the best known pioneer families of Charleroi. She is a beautiful and accomplished young woman, and like her husband a favorite among her many friends. The groom has been employed for about five years at Wagner's Ice Cream and Confectionary parlors and is highly esteemed.

"In the strength of tried experience we have stood four square against every new breeze that threatened to sweep the country from old moorings. We stand today as we always have stood, with the banners of our faith flying from the outer walls of our Commonwealth, and when our flag goes down it will be when there is nothing more worth fighting for in representative government. This is the sentiment of our people, and at this time that sentiment finds its best expression in President Taft, your guest this evening. Mr. President, let me assure you our people are enlisted in the cause and are willing to follow your leadership in a great contest soon to be waged for true and lasting representative government for our people. We say to you, Welcome, thrice welcome to our State."

When Governor Tener was introduced at the banquet pandemonium broke loose. It was the greatest demonstration of the night, with the exception of that accorded President Taft. Handclapping and cheers resounded through the room and napkins waved high over all as the chief executive of Pennsylvania rose to respond to the toast.

Gov. Tener aroused considerable enthusiasm when, near the conclusion of his address, he said that President Taft had prophesied a nine-foot stage in the Ohio river from Pittsburgh to Cairo, Ill., within five years.

New Heat Unit.

The use of gas for heating as well as lighting has made obsolete the old unit the candle power, owing to the fact that this unit rates merely the brightness of the flame, not the heating power.

Devile and more recent experimenters discovered a remarkable proportion between the light and heat of a mantle, and using this, makers are rating burners according to the units of heat given to them per unit of time in standard calories. Gas of 5, 200 calories efficiency a cubic meter has been recommended as the standard.

The latest designs of burners for heat and lighting require that the gas have a fairly constant consumption, since the maximum efficiency of the burner is attained only when the relative quantities of air and gas are closely regulated. Water gas may be added to prevent excessive variation in calorific value.—America.

Tragic Wedding Party.

An appalling happening occurred in Turkey a few days ago, at a wedding celebration, the bride, bridegroom and twenty-eight of the guests being blown to pieces. A powder merchant named Yahia was celebrating his wedding in the village of Sinan, in the Yemen, when a terrific explosion occurred in one of the rooms where powder was stored. The bride and bridegroom and guests all perished, some of them being terribly mutilated.

WILL REPRODUCE WORLD'S SERIES

Manager R. L. Barnhart has secured the films of the world's series of baseball games between the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Athletics for tomorrow night, which will be an attraction of first magnitude. Intense interest centered in this series of games by Charleroi fans, some of whom journeyed east to witness the games in person. Tomorrow every one in Charleroi can have an opportunity to see at least some of the thrilling plays, and to see face to face the players even better than they could be viewed from the grand stand or the bleachers on the grounds. To accommodate all, the first show Thursday evening will start promptly at 6 o'clock. The Pathe Weekly Bulletin is shown at the Palace tonight.

Foreign Countries Devising Schemes for Benefit of Large Users of the Mails.

Any man who can devise a practical substitute for the postage stamp will deserve the gratitude of every large business house in the world, and may earn a large fortune. For the labor of affixing stamps to their enormous mail necessitates in some firms the employment of a special clerical staff.

In the postoffices of some countries steps in this direction have already been taken. Here, for instance, newspapers and magazines are mailed by their publishers in bulk without stamps, and the postage is paid in a lump sum of one cent a pound. Then, again, some firms that send out large quantities of circulars register themselves under a certain number at the postoffice, their envelopes are printed with this number and the circulars so mailed are paid for in bulk. In Bavaria large consignments of letters may merely be postmarked by machinery and sent without stamps, the postage fee being paid in a lump sum at the time of mailing. It is said that since February 1, 1910, this system has saved the Bavarian postoffice the expense for paper and the printing cost for 10,000,000 stamps.

A writer in the Umschau, a German publication, suggests a further development of this system along the lines of a meter, like those used for water, gas and electricity, in which the letters would be placed and automatically stamped with a postmark, the machine recording each letter so mailed. These machines would be inspected periodically and the bills collected, just as are those of the consumer of gas or water.

Authors Not Posted.

Wills have often proved a stumbling block to the novelist. One flagrant case may be mentioned. A popular writer causes an old aristocrat to have his "last will and testament" witnessed by his butler and his housekeeper, yet he makes them both benefit under it. By so doing he rendered the will invalid. But the author did not know it.

Not Much Lost.

Two lunatics conversed in the asylum yard. One had megalomania. Said he: "Had they not locked me up here, I should have been a second Napoleon!" Thoughtfully, the other contemplated a peagreen devil on the asylum wall, then remarked: "The second Napoleon wasn't much shucks."

Will Raise Opossums.

One farm exclusively for opossums has been started in Gippsland, Victoria, which comprises two thousand acres of eucalyptus bush land. Another farm comprising five hundred acres has been started in southern Tasmania and another of 150 acres in New South Wales.

Silly Saying Still Lives.

The saying that fish is the best brain food comes of an old long tongue windbag years ago saying: "Thought is impossible without phosphorus." So a Swiss chemist, knowing that fish contained phosphorus, put two and two together and brought forth a saying that will never die.

Why He Stayed Away.

"It's been four years now," said the deserted woman, "since he left me and his happy home. I remember just as well as yesterday—how he stood at the door, holding it open till six flies got in the house."—Indianapolis Press.

It is desired to lease the skating rink. It is understood that when the season opens Charleroi will be represented by one of the strongest teams in the circuit. As soon as all business matters are arranged by the Charleroi Amusement company and the officials of the league, Mr. Adams, who will manage the local team will begin making arrangements for opening the season, which will be about November 13.

DANCE IS HELD BY ATHLETIC CLUB

The masquerade dance given by the Imperial Athletic Club at Concordia Hall Tuesday night was a pleasant affair and largely attended. Many of the attendants were masked, and everything passed off nicely. Prizes were awarded for the finest ladies' and men's costumes, and for the most comically arrayed attendant of each sex. There were many fine and unique costumes and all had a merry time. Jenkins orchestra furnished the music.

GUILD TO HOLD A MASQUERADE SOCIAL

The Young People's Guild of St. Mary's Episcopal church will hold their annual masquerade party this evening at the Sunday school rooms of the church. A slight admission will be charged which includes refreshments. The proceeds are devoted to the flower mission for the sick and other work of the Guild.

Queer Physical Facts.

Matters in geography and physics appear to get a little mixed at times. The mouth of the Mississippi is several miles farther from the center of the earth than its source, so that it actually runs uphill. Also the eastern end of the Panama canal is further west than the western end. It sounds like a "bull," to be sure, but for all that it is a fact.

A Hare's Daily Sea Bath.

A hare which had made a daily practice of swimming in the sea at Cley, to the delight of visitors, has been captured by some local fishermen in a boat. They chased the animal seaward for 300 yards before they came up with it. The hare was then exhausted and was easily captured.—London Daily Mail.

Bees Joke Up Church Services.

A unique occurrence broke up the service in the German Lutheran church at Chicago the other Sunday. A swarm of honey bees invaded the building and drove out the pastor and congregation, and services had to be held on the lawn in front of the church.

Diet of the Alligator.

Alligators are said to eat nothing in winter. Their diet is almost all meat, preferably liver. In cool weather they eat about once a week and in warm weather oftener.

Her view of it.

The childish daughter of the house had been sent into the parlor to entertain the unexpected guest. The woman inquired, by way of making conversation, where was the child's brother. "He's gone to the school of ministers to be pastored," she was respectfully informed.
